

Celebrate Being You Instructions

Imagine a world where everyone was exactly the same. How would that make you feel? Everyone is different and that's what makes us interesting and unique. We should recognise our differences and be proud of them.

To celebrate School Diversity Week 2020, have a go at answering the questions on the 'proud clouds' around the rainbow to show why it's good to be you and why it's good to be different. You can write or draw the answers.

Note to parents and educators: School Diversity Week 2020 runs between 22nd and 26th June to celebrate lesbian, gay, bisexual and trans (LGBT+) equality in education. Organised by Just Like Us, the LGBT+ charity for young people, it is a week-long event designed to highlight the issues of homophobic, biphobic and transphobic bullying and to encourage young people to celebrate and respect each other's differences.

Find out more about School Diversity Week at www.justlikeus.org/sdw-parents.

Celebrate Being You!

Read the questions in the 'proud clouds' below to celebrate why it's good to be you. You can write or draw the answers.

What would it be like if we all looked exactly the same?

Describe something you have done that makes you feel proud.

Name one thing that you are good at or enjoy doing.

What would it be like if we all liked the same things?

Think of a friend. Write down one thing that is special about them.

Describe something that makes you different from a friend or family member.

Why is it a good thing to celebrate each other's differences?